CONTRIBUTIONS IN BOOKS

1. Andreas Griewank and Laihua Sheng. On the Gauss-Broyden Method for Nonlinear Least-Squares. In J.C. Diaz, editor, *Mathematics for Large Scale
Computing Lecture Notes in Pure and Applied Mathematics, No. 120*, pages

Differentiation for PDE’s – Unsaturated Flow Case Study. In R. Vichnevetski, D. Knight, and G. Richter, editors, *Advances in Computer Methods for Par-IMACS.

3. A. Griewank. Some Bounds on the Complexity of Gradients, Jacobians, and Hessians. In P.M. Pardalos, editor, Complexity in Nonlinear Optimization,

4. C.H. Bischof and A. Griewank. Automatic differentiation in sensitivity analysis and design optimization. In H. Meuer, editor, *Basissoftware für Vektor-

5. A. Griewank and M. Fruth. Generating Conjugate Directions Using Limited Second Derivatives. In M. Gunzberger J. Borggaard, J. Burkardt and J. Peterson, editors, Optimal Design and Control, pages 177–188. Birkhäuser, Boston, 1994.

6. A. Griewank, D. Shiriaev, and J. Utke. Berechnung von Jacobi– und Hessematrizen aus C und Fortran Code. In W. Mackens and S.M. Rump, editors,

7. A. Griewank and J. Utke. Automatisches Differenzieren als Kombinatorisches Problem. In S.D. Chatterji, B. Fuchsteiner, U. Kulisch, and R. Liedl, editors,

8. A. Griewank. Einfach unmöglich! Oder wenn die Rechnung groß ausfällt.
